

Royal Oak Inn, Gladestry

- Recently re-opened
- The Royal Oak is a picturesque Inn reputedly built in the 17th Century immediately adjacent to the Offa's Dyke National Path.
-
- From the large secluded beer garden you can lounge peacefully, listening to the abundant bird song. Buzzards and Red Kites are regular visitors soaring just below the summit of the adjacent hills.
- Ample car parking is available at the pub.
- For Walkers: It is the only pub directly on the Offa's Dyke Path between Hay-on-Wye and Kington, about 10 miles (about 4 hours walking time) from Hay-on-Wye and 4 1/2 miles (about 2 hours walking time) from Kington.
- The Royal Oak Inn provides a welcome sight to many a walker. The Main Bar has a flagstone floor, ideal for those muddy boots, and well behaved dogs are welcome.
- The Inn has recently been opened under new management

Opening Hours

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday 6.00 - 10.00

Thursday, Friday, 12.00 - 2.30 & 6.00 – 10.00

Saturday 12.00 – 11.30

Sunday 12.00 – 10.30

Food Served : Evenings Tuesday – Saturday 6.00 – 8.30

Lunch Times Thursday – Saturday 12.00 – 2.00

Sunday 12.30 – 3.00